Question	Answer
Can a bidder select more than one fund programme?	Yes. Bidders may select more than one programme, provided they submit the required documents for each selected programme.
If a bidder selects the Construction Development Fund but does not meet its specific requirements, will the whole bid be disqualified?	No. The bidder would be disqualified only for the Construction Development Fund, but could still be considered for other selected programmes if the relevant requirements are met.
Are reference letters showing experience working with persons with disabilities required?	Yes, for the Amavulandlela Fund for People with Disabilities. The references should show experience supporting people with disabilities and accommodating their needs.
Does every entity in a joint venture need to submit compliance documents?	Yes. Each entity must provide the required compliance documents, and the joint venture agreement must also be submitted.
If only one joint-venture partner has a valid tax clearance certificate, can the bid be accepted?	The joint venture may proceed if it has a joint venture agreement, but both companies must submit their tax clearance certificates.
Does a bidder need to address every item in the scope of work?	The bidder may be considered if it meets the applicable functionality requirements.
Is CIDB registration required for the Construction Development Fund?	The bidders must meet the stated requirements for the Construction Development Fund. The requirement is intended to ensure mentors have practical experience in operating a construction business. Check the tender document for the exact registration terminology and requirement.
Is the panel responsible for fund management and when does its work begin?	The panel's role is to provide non-financial support, such as mentorship and business planning, to help applicants become funding ready before funding is provided.
